Guide Dogs • Service Dogs • Autism Support Dogs • College of Orientation and Mobility

All potential Guide Dogs, Service Dogs and Social Dogs begin life as puppies. It is vitally important that these puppies are correctly socialized so that they will behave in the correct manner as adult dogs that will be assisting disabled people.

Puppies need to experience a range of different experiences including shopping malls, restaurants, public and private transport.

A puppy is always accompanied by its Puppy Raiser. SA Guide-Dogs Association puppies always wear a blue Puppy Jacket. The jacket does have the logo of the South African Guide-Dogs Association for the blind.

A Guide dog always wears a leather harness.
